The statement made last week that there were but 20 members in the recently-formed Prohibition club seems to have misunderstood by many. The facts are these: ninety-eight persons signed a paper calling for the organization of the club, and pledging themselves to its membership. The constitution, recently adopted, provides that those who signed the call shall complete their membership by signing the constitution and by-laws. Only 20 persons have as yet had an opportunity to affix their signatures.

Residents of Court street saw a funny sight Sunday afternoon. A farmer from the east part of the town undertook to bring in a calf for shipment Monday morning and had him in a rack on the wagon. Things went smoothly till the team arrived near the Addison House, when the brute jumped out and started for home. The farmer turned about and pursued. When last seen the calf was three or four lengths ahead, with head and tail up, and increasing his lead at every rod, while the owner was putting the whip to his horse in the apparently vain hope of catching his property before it reached home.

Letters have been received by Mr. J. A. Wright from Messrs. Withersell and Wright, who went to South America last month, saying they are getting on well. The last was dated at Para, Brazil, July 11.

George Langworthy, Sr., was 77 years of age on the 22d inst., when his children and relatives, of whom he has many, called upon him. His brother, Myron, was 83 on Wednesday and the event was suitably commemorated.

Abner Smith, Esq., and family of Chicago are visiting at Mrs. P. R. Birmingham's. Mr. Smith was graduated from the college here in the class of 1866, and is senior member of the firm of Smith & Burnett, prominent lawyers.

Frank Lucia, having completed his new house on the west side of Chipman's hill, has moved into it. The situation is one of the very pleasantest in town. Mrs. Lucia is rapidly recovering from the injuries received a few weeks since.

The selectmen are making good progress with the checklist. It is now undergoing revision and will be printed in the REGISTER next week, if then ready, so that voters can look it over. There will be between 600 and 700 names on it.

Chas. Waller, who once resided here and carried on the painting business in company with the late Samuel Brooks, is in town for a short stay. He went hence to California about ten years ago and has since lived there, in Massachusetts and at Washington.

It is understood that there will soon be new meat markets in town—one kept by W. E. Cushman in the basement of the Allen block, where J. H. Sergeant has been located, and the other in the Valette block, with J. Speyer as proprietor.

Lieut. Etta Trafton is in charge of the salvation army force here now. Capt. Gray having gone to Montpelier to manage the campaign just begun in that town. But Capt. Gray's two young sons are here and are prominent in the meetings, which continue to be well attended.

Rev. S. L. B. Speare, pastor of the congregational church, started Monday, the 19th inst., on his vacation of four weeks, going to Newton, Mass., we understand. Rev. B. Fay Mills, who conducted the very successful revival here last winter, is preaching for the pastor during his absence.

The wool trade in the county is about at an end for this season, the new clip having been pretty much sold. The buyers have all disposed of their purchases of fine grades to the Burlington woolen mills, which have had probably not less than 300,000 pounds of Addison county wool this season.

The Addison Marble company's quarry in the east part of the town, which was sold by auction at Boston last week, was purchased by Geo. W. Ireland, Esq., of Jamaica Plains, Mass. There were so many conditions in the sale that it is not possible to state the price with any degree of accuracy. It is understood that operations will be resumed at the quarry another season.

The address on "Qualifications Essential to Christian Work," delivered by Rev. B. Fay Mills in the V. M. C. A. hall last Sunday, was enjoyed by a well-filled house. The young men's meeting, Wednesday evening, led by M. E. Damon, was the most interesting of any yet held. Meetings next week as usual. Mr. Parsons passed Monday and Tuesday with Rev. Mr. Mills at Silver Lake.

Lewis Gordon, an Addison Frenchman, was jailed here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Gorham. He was held for trial in the sum of $200 on the charge of stealing a harness of S. Taylor of Addison. It is alleged that he took the property to Winooski and sold it to a liveryman. The examination was had at Vergennes Wednesday, before Justice G. W. Grandey, State's Attorney Wilds prosecuting and Hon. E. E. Woodbridge defending.

C. J. Matthews and O. H. and W. E. Cushman returned Wednesday from a two-days' visit to the Middlebury people camped at Lake George. W. D. Lane, E. E. Ichabod and L. F. Farmworth and their families will break camp in a few days. It is generally the case that camping produces tranquillity of mind, but the visitors report that one of the former proprietors of the New market got so excited the other day as to row his boat half a mile square-end-first. He had in a cargo of ladies.
